Subject: "ABCOV®: The Worlds Asbestos Solution"

Let me follow up with the interaction that Tony has made to me as a reference for the ABCOV process. I am not a consultant to ABCOV or have worked for Tony in any capacity other than as a friend and previous associate.

I will be traveling in the next few weeks and wanted to let you know what some of our motivations were in our interest in Tony's process.

We had some very significant asbestos removal programs in progress and were generating a great deal of ACM materials that had to be disposed of at conventional special sites that were getting increasingly more expensive and we knew really did not limit our liability even after we had disposed of the materials in accordance with all existing requirements.

The notion that there was a process that could effectively destroy the asbestos materials and end that liability and still be very competitive with the removal and disposal costs was very attractive. After extensive verification we were convinced that the process worked and given the acceptance that has followed in the intervening years with the various regulatory agencies, and further improvements to the process, I would not hesitate to recommend this alternative for consideration to anyone looking at ways of managing asbestos and ACM removal, disposal and liability issues.
